That whole section was news to me. Debated on the pork barrel line too. I don't think Roy would even say it

Ken said it a couple of times out loud and the Boston react either way,

Boss

I have been pushing to have these decisions made in a small group session but it has not happened yet. The issue I raised about the secretaries was that this makes this fund appear even more like an official state function, and while I think they should certainly be included I don't feel ready to say they are the trustees.
